"Dirty Secrets Behind the Moon Race"

Newsweek magazine. September 17, 2014*.

THIS is not the stirring tale of heroic deeds that is now a fat chapter in every US school history textbook.

This is a tale replete with fumbling, bumbling, bickering and at least one insane-sounding notion…

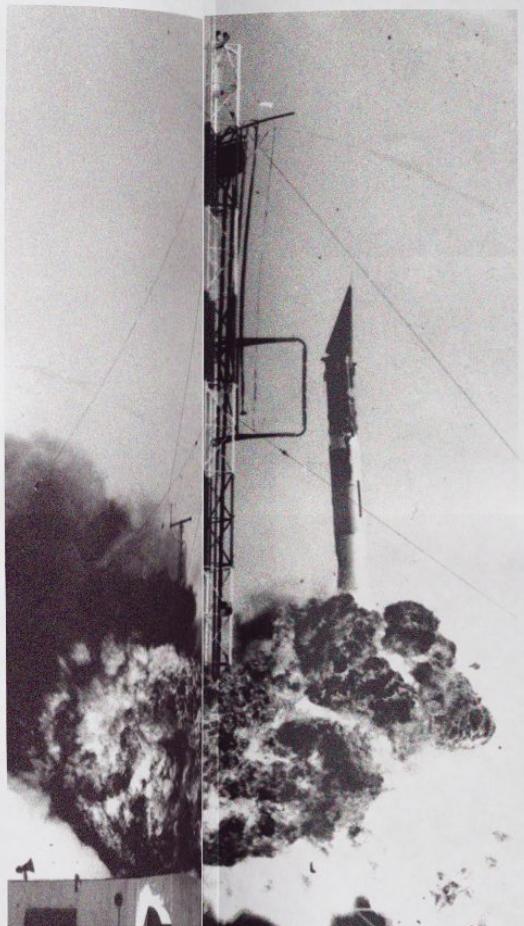
One of the most outlandish secret schemes –if not the weirdest secret operation– was exposed in recently declassified top-secret government documents.

"[Moreover], the operation is of such a magnitude as to defy the imagination…" –reads one 1959 Army document.

Instead of America's polished official history of the race that culminated with the "small-step-for-man" or "giant-leap-for-mankind," the just-released National Security Archives tell a much messier and frightening story of what was arguably the cockiest international competition in history.

America bungled the Space Race with hare-brained schemes and inept spying.

While the US was entangled in mushroom-cloud-in-the-sky schemes, the Soviets were developing plans that made far more sense. Almost immediately, the Americans smelled that this was business not as usual.



Caught With Their Rockets Down

In October 1959, American intelligence detected the launch of three space vehicles by the Soviets that officials calculated were the heaviest objects ever shot into space. In a series of robotic missions to the Moon, consecutive Lunik spacecraft: (1) Missed it and fell into solar orbit; (2) crashed into it; (3) transmitted photographs of its never-before-seen dark side.

The declassified documents show that America got seriously concerned about Soviet dominance in space.

"The results of our failure will raise grave political questions and lower our prestige and influence."

The motives for frantic scheming on both sides of the Iron Curtain were neither the altruistic advancement of science nor gluttonous national pride.The Superpowers wanted to get to the Moon first because it would grant them decisive tactical superiority in their bitter and frigid war.

"Specific positive effects would accrue to the nation first performing such a feat of advanced technological capability."

The CIA desperately wanted a sneak peek of Russian technology because it raised the tantalizing and terrifying prospect that, as a weapon, it might hold the key to ultimate hegemony in space.

Operation Pocketed Rocket

The Agency learned that Russia was showing off its exploits in a traveling exhibition. Rumors spread that Sputnik and Lunik were included.

The tour offered a perfect opportunity to "look under the hood."

But the Soviets would never take the risk of transporting the keystone to their advantage from country to country.

Or would they…?

I. AESTHETICS

AESTHETIC PROPOSAL

Sui Generis. This is the term that comes to mind when trying to describe our film's style. Both the story and the way it's told, and even the language, are daring and different. Therefore, visually, it couldn't be any other way.

We need to dare to innovate, yet be respectful of history and pay homage to past styles and techniques, to bring the magic back to cinema.

LET'S CONSIDER BLACK AND WHITE

Why black and white? First of all, we need to make it very clear to the audience that they are going to see something different, that they need to prepare their minds to believe what we are going to show them. It's like when you go to the theater and the lights go out. At that moment, you prepare yourself to believe the story that is about to begin.

The glow of the whites helps create a magical atmosphere and directly transports us to a time period, without anyone questioning anything. Suddenly, we are there, in the 1950s.

Some examples of projects in black and white:

Poor Things (Nominated for Best Cinematography, 2024 Academy Awards)

The Artist (Nominated for Best Cinematography, 2012 Academy Awards)

Sin City (Winner Technical Award, 2005 Cannes Film Festival)

Ripley (TV) (Tipped as front-runner for award season due to "impeccable visual craft")

VISUAL STYLES

There are several styles that we would like to replicate and blend, such as German Expressionism, Film Noir, comics, and the textures of Mexican films from the 1950s. We aim to use them as a starting point to create our own style.

Our goal is not to copy or plagiarize anything, but rather to pay homage to images, movies, or styles that we admire.

Visual clichés will be a recurring element of composition.

COMPOSITIONAL ELEMENTS

Visual clichés:

EXAGGERATED SHADOWS AND SILHOUETTES

DEFINED LIGHT BEAMS

HIGH AND LOW ANGLES, UNUSUAL FRAMINGS

BLINDS

DUTCH-ANGLES

HIGH CONTRAST

CLOSE-UPS

TEXTURES & FINISHES

The concept involves crafting virtual sets utilizing LED volumes, as seen in productions like The Mandalorian, Avatar, Bladerunner 2049, among others, complemented by real-world 3D models and miniatures.

The aim is to direct focus towards the action while allowing the sets to recede into the background, devoid of excessive attention or attempts at realism. Employing chiaroscuro strategically, we'll conceal certain portions of the sets and details within darkness. Harnessing the viewer's imagination, we acknowledge that the mind holds greater potency than any CGI.

By leaving gaps for interpretation, we invite the audience to contribute to the completion of the sets.

TRANSITIONS & EFFECTS

Integrating classic transitions and effects can significantly elevate the visual presentation, aiding in storytelling and enriching the film's tone.

Utilizing overlays, crossfades, extended dissolves, circular transitions, and reflections enhances not only narrative coherence but also reinforces the film's aesthetic style.

ESTRUCTURA DE LA HISTORIA

MARCO GENERAL

En la carrera espacial los Rusos realizan varias misiones con buen término, con ello logran adelantarse en la carrera espacial en el marco de la histórica guerra fría.

Después de su misión "LUNIK 3" planean mostrar al mundo sus avances científicos y tecnológicos, mediante una gira mundial con una exposición.

MIENTRAS EN ESTADOS UNIDOS

Preocupados por su retraso en la carrera espacial, y temerosos de que la sonda espacial "LUNIK 3" hubiera colocado misiles atómicos en la luna, centran sus labores de espionaje en obtener información acerca de esta.

Todos los medios de comunicación anuncian la gira Rusa. Encuentran en la gira y principalmente en su visita en México, la oportunidad de encontrar información que les ayude con su misión.

IV. MINIATURES

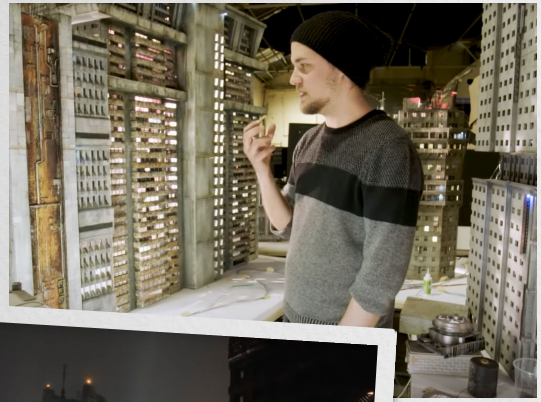
MINIATURES

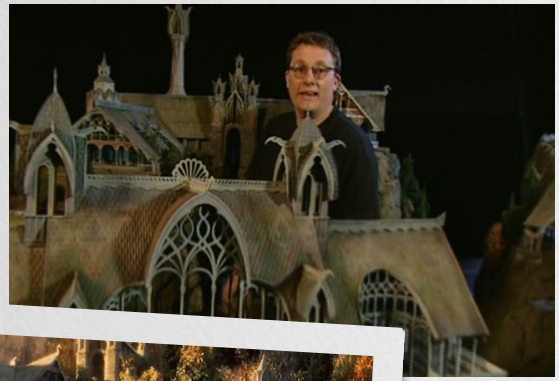
The use of miniatures serves as a cost-effective alternative to constructing large-scale sets or relying solely on CGI effects. Miniatures will lend our film a unique visual style that sets it apart from others, adding a sense of craftsmanship and tangibility to the production.

Additionally, when executed realistically, miniatures can seamlessly blend into the film's environment, creating a convincing portrayal of scenarios that may no longer exist or are too expensive to recreate.

From a cost perspective, constructing and filming with miniatures will be more economical than building full-scale sets, especially for scenes involving large landscapes, cities, or complex environments. Miniatures will allow us to control every detail of the set, achieving precise compositions and visual effects without the need for extensive post-production editing. This efficiency in production can result in significant cost savings without compromising the quality of the final product.

Moreover, the use of miniatures will offer us a level of artistic expression and creativity that may be limited when relying solely on digital effects. The physicality of miniatures will imbue our film with a distinct visual aesthetic, evoking a sense of nostalgia or classic cinema charm. The tactile nature of miniatures also allows for practical effects such as explosions, destruction, or intricate detailing that can be challenging to achieve with CGI alone.





Since our film is historical, the use of miniatures will be indispensable for recreating settings and scenes from bygone eras. Many elements needed for these settings may no longer exist or may be impractical to replicate authentically. Miniatures offer a practical solution for us to recreate historical landscapes, architecture, and vehicles with remarkable accuracy, ensuring that the film captures the essence of the time period.

Several prominent movies have successfully utilized miniatures to enhance their visual storytelling. For example, "Blade Runner" (1982) famously used miniatures to depict the sprawling futuristic cityscape of Los Angeles in the year 2019. Similarly, the "Lord of the Rings" trilogy (2001-2003) employed miniatures extensively to create the epic landscapes of Middle- Earth, including the iconic city of Minas Tirith. Another notable example is "Inception" (2010), which used miniatures to create the gravity-defying cityscapes and architectural marvels seen in the dream sequences.

By leveraging the versatility and craftsmanship of miniatures, we can bring our creative vision to life while enhancing the overall production value of the film.

V. THE ENVIRONMENT

LED VOLUMES

Using LED volumes for backgrounds and set extensions in combination with real-world foreground elements and miniatures can offer our movie an innovative approach to creating authentic and cost-effective environments. By integrating LED technology, we can seamlessly blend physical and digital elements to construct immersive and visually stunning settings that enhance the storytelling experience.

LED volumes provide several advantages for creating backgrounds and set extensions. They offer dynamic lighting capabilities, allowing for flexible control over brightness, color, and effects. This versatility enables us to simulate various lighting conditions and atmospheres, enhancing the mood and tone of each scene. Additionally, LED volumes are efficient and cost-effective, consuming less power and requiring fewer resources compared to traditional lighting setups or full-scale set constructions.

In our movie, we can utilize LED volumes to project realistic backgrounds or digital scenery onto large screens or surfaces, serving as backdrops for our actors and physical sets. These digital backgrounds can be tailored to match the aesthetic and setting of each scene, whether it's an era-specific cityscape, a historical landmark, or an out-of-this-world space-scape.

By integrating real-world foreground elements and miniatures into these LED-enhanced environments, we can create seamless transitions between physical and digital worlds, enhancing the overall immersion and authenticity of the film.

EXAMPLES

Several successful films and TV shows have effectively utilized LED volumes to create immersive and visually striking environments. To name only a few:

1) "The Mandalorian" (TV series, 2019-present): This groundbreaking series from the Star Wars franchise utilized a cutting-edge filming technique known as "StageCraft," which employs LED video walls to create realistic digital environments in real-time. LED volumes surrounding the physical sets display high-resolution background images, allowing actors to interact with virtual landscapes while maintaining a practical shooting environment.

2) "Avatar" (2009): Director James Cameron utilized LED screens to immerse actors in the lush, alien world of Pandora during filming. By projecting digital backgrounds onto large LED screens surrounding the set, Cameron created a seamless blend of physical and digital elements, enhancing the visual spectacle of the film.

3) "Blade Runner 2049" (2017): This sci-fi sequel incorporated LED screens to create the neon- lit, dystopian cityscapes of Los Angeles. LED volumes were used to project digital backgrounds onto set extensions, enhancing the futuristic atmosphere of the film while minimizing the need for extensive post-production visual effects.

By drawing inspiration from these successful examples and maximizing the use of LED technology in our movie, we can create authentic and cost-effective environments that elevate the visual storytelling and immerse audiences in our cinematic world.

VI. MUSIC

A SAMPLING OF LYRICS…

[Gather round while I sing you]
In the psychopathology
of Wernher von Braun
[A man whose allegiance]
nefarious psychopathy [is ruled by expedience]
seems callous sociopathy

Call him a Nazi, he won't even frown
"Nazi schmazi,"
says Wernher von Braun

[don't say that he's hypocritical]
Don't think he's just pathological
[say rather that he's apolitical]
Recognise that he's plain genocidal

"Once [the] a rocket [are] goes up
Who cares [where they come down] up whose wazoo [That's not my department] I'm not a proctologist"
says Wernher von Braun

Some have harsh words
for this man of renown
But some think our attitude should be one of gratitude
Like the widows and cripples
in old London town
Who owe their large pensions
to Wernher von Braun

…TO DAZZLE THE SENSES…

We've gained notoriety
And caused much anxiety
In the Audobon Society
With our games

They call it impiety
And lack of propriety
And quite a variety of unpleasant names

But it's not against any religion
To want to dispose of a pigeon

So if
Sunday you're free
Why don't you come with me
And we'll poison the pigeons in the park

And maybe we'll do-in a squirrel or two
While we're poisoning pigeons in the park

We'll murder them all amid laughter and merriment
Except for the few
we take home to experiment

My pulse will be quickenin'
With each drop of strychnine
We feed to a pigeon

It just takes a smidgin
To poison a pigeon in the park

...AND THRILL THE MIND!

And we will all go together when we go
What a comforting fact that is to know
Universal bereavement
An inspiring achievement
Yes, we all will go together when we go

We will all bake together when we bake there'll be nobody present at the wake with complete participation in that grand incineration
nearly three billion hunks of well-done steak

We will all fry together when we fry
We'll be French fried potatoes by and by
There will be no more misery
When the world is our rotisserie
Yes, we will all fry together when we fry

We will all char together when we char
And let there be no moaning of the bar
Just sing out a Te Deum
When you see that I.C.B.M.
And the party will be "come as you are"

We will all burn together when we burn
There'll be no need to stand and wait your turn
When it's time for the fallout
And Saint Peter calls us all out
We'll just drop our agendas and adjourn

2 EXT. KAZAKHSTAN / BAIKONUR COSMODROME - NIGHT 2

A thunderous blastoff propels a gigantic semyorka rocket through billowing smoke clouds.
Silhouetted by search lights, the flaming spacecraft rises imperiously, rumbling over Baikonur Cosmodrome (the largest space centre on Earth to this day).

In the midst of the vast Kazakh steppe, Baikonur appears like a minuscule constellation twinkling in the dark.

TOWERING ABOVE THE COSMODROME LOOMS AN AURORA BOREALIS.
In proportion, the Semyorka is an insignificant fiery dart, shooting for the tidal waves of glowing green plasma on high.

3 STRATOSPHERE - TITLE SEQUENCE 3

From the edge of outer space, the contour of the Aral Sea is visible on Earth's night side, shrouded by the Aurora.

IN THE BLACK VOID ABOVE THE GLEAMING SHEATH OF OUR PLANET'S ATMOSPHERE, A WONDROUS MECHANICAL BALLET UNFOLDS:

Coasting weightlessly, the Semyorka's nose-cone blooms open to deploy a canister emblazoned with Soviet insignias.

THE CYLINDRICAL SPACE PROBE GLIDES CLOSE BY, REVEALING THE NAME ON ITS HULL:

LUNIK - 3

Quirky as a wind-up toy, the module comes to life, springing and unfolding several long antennae, spinning on its longitudinal axis, and then emitting a fax-like whirring chirp.

AS IT FLOATS PAST, THE ROBOTIC PROBE OPENS IT'S 'BLACK EYES': A PAIR OF METALLIC ORBS AT ITS BOTTOM SLIDE OPEN TO EXPOSE TWO SPHERICAL PORTHOLES CONTAINING A PAIR OF CAMERAS.

Gaining momentum, LUNIK gravitates away, toward…

A STAGGERING, ALMOST TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE.

Dwarfed by it, LUNIK falls toward the silhouetted Moon.
Its umbra engulfs the diminutive probe.

LUNIK IS SWALLOWED UP BY DARKNESS. ITS CHIRP DIES DOWN.
A disconcerting TOTAL SILENCE ensues.

4 INT. JODRELL-BANK RADIOASTRONOMY OBSERVATORY (CHESHIRE) - DUSK 4

The half-dozen alarmed TECHNICIANS manning the stations, check and re-check the dials, knobs and switches on their control boards.
With a sense of dark foreboding, they slowly remove their headsets, exchanging baffled glances.
Quickly, one of them scribbles on a slip, and hands it to an OFFICE BOY, who immediately darts off.

With growing unease, the TECHNICIANS realise that darkness is creeping in on them:

SHADOWS GROW ON THE WALLS - SPREAD ACROSS THE FLOOR - COVER THE CONTROL PANELS…

[ominous music rises]

5 EXT. OBSERVATORY - MOMENTS LATER 5

The shadow of night advances on a meadow -stirring commotion amongst some grazing sheep.

In the midst of the field, the cyclopean dish of the Lovell radio telescope (the biggest on earth then) overshadows its adjacent control station.

From it stumbles out the OFFICE BOY. Troubled by the advancing darkness, he clumsily scrambles onto a bicycle --slip in hand.

6 EXT. CRICKET FIELD - 'SUNSET' 6

The CRICKETERS stop playing -all taken by the solar spectacle- save for the BATSMAN, the sharp gentleman fixed on the BOWLER, who's just going into his delivery stride when…

… the alarmed OFFICE BOY arrives, reeling out of control.

OFFICE BOY
PROFESSOR! PROFESSOR!

Flustered, the BATSMAN reacts to the BOWLER's 'googly', batting the ball onto unexpected heights, before turning to glare at the office boy:
Astride his bike, he waves the slip absentmindedly, while gaping to the skies.

UMPIRE and BOWLER are as flummoxed -wondering about the ball- as some awed ONLOOKERS and most FIELDSMEN are.

Only the THIRD MAN sees the BATSMAN getting away, perched on the bike's hind pegs --the boy pedalling hard.

7 INT. RADIOASTRONOMY OBSERVATORY - DUSK 7

The BATSMAN stands before the station's panoramic window, gazing at his own reflection: the spitting image of the eminent astronomer, Sir Charles Bernard LOVELL. Although he's holding a champagne bottle, he couldn't be less festive.

LOVELL
Final score: we all lost. I lost face, and you…? You've lost my faith.
There goes our entry in the Encyclopaedia
Britannica; straight out the window.

He turns to confront the mortified TECHNICIANS.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
How did WE at JODRELL BANK manage to loose track of the SUMMUM, the CROWN of human ingenuity! So much for making history as Harbingers of the Space Age.

Didn't Russia finish the Space Race first, over a year ago, with the first manmade moon? That ends the race, doesn't it? Finished.

LOVELL
'Spooknik' only STARTED us on the road to perdition, smart aleck; it actually inaugurated this race to the abyss.

He grabs a pair of welder's goggles.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
All because 'certain people' saw in it, a weapon of mass psychosis.

An otherwise smart looking technician looks spooked.

BRIGHT BOY
IN … IT?! INSIDE? They literally put--

LOVELL
Metaphorically, bright boy!

A timid team-member seems particularly wary.

SHY BOY
Who… Who saw? Who are certain people?

LOVELL
Guess, be my guest.

SHY BOY shakes his head timidly.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
The usual cowboys; Uncle Sam & Friends: hawks, warmongers, scaremongers, profiteers, jingoists… Nazis really.

SMART ALEX
Nazis?! A tad exaggerated, professor?

LOVELL
Who do you think runs Uncle Sam's space program, smart aleck?

LOVELL shows them the cover of Time Magazine where a gallant Wernher VON BROWN is 'MAN OF THE YEAR'.

BRIGHT BOY
Von Braun is no Nazi! He's harmless! All he's ever aimed for are the stars!

LOVELL
How did he keep hitting London then?

To everyone's perplexity, LOVELL expands with a singsongy elucidation:

[SONG: based on Tom Lehrer's WERNHER VON BRAUN]

LOVELL (CONT'D)
In the psychopathology
of Wernher von Braun
callous sociopathy
masks toxic psychopathy
Call him a Nazi
he won't even frown
"Nazi schmazi"
sneers Wernher von Braun

SMART ALEX
Sickening!

LOVELL
Don't think he's just pathological
Admit he's certifiably genocidal

From the cover of Time, VON BRAUN himself chimes in:

VON BRAUN
Once rockets go up
Who cares up whose wazoo
Ich bin kein proctologist

LOVELL
… says Wernher von Braun

BRIGHT BOY
Disgusting!

LOVELL
It's quite disingenuous to claim he's a genius implying our attitude
betrays some ingratitude like the crippled and maimed
in old London town
who owe their disablement
to Wernher von Braun.

7 CONTINUED: (3) 7

Night falls. The TECHNICIANS are speechless.
LOVELL dons his tinted goggles to see

THE ECLIPSE CULMINATE WITH A DIAMOND FLARE.

A LOUD TELEPHONE RING startles everyone in the darkened control room. The TECHNICIANS look to LOVELL. Paralysed, he stares at a BLINKING RED BUTTON on the phone.

BRIGHT BOY
Someone's calling the red line!

LOVELL
I can see that, bright boy!

The men bite their nails, unnerved by the INSISTENT RINGING.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
How on Earth do I break it to them!
It will kill them!
(mustering the courage to pick up.)
Jodrell Bank Radio Astronomy Centre,
Lovell speaking.
(covering his other ear)
Hullo? Hullo-hullo? …
(to his men)
It's dead…

SMART ALEX presses the phone's blue button, sending the call to a speakerphone. A man's voice with thick Russian accent is barely intelligible through the crackling connection.

RUSSIAN (V.O.)
ROSCOSMOS COSMODROME BAIKONUR KAZAKHSTAN
CALLING YODEL BAND FOR SINGING PRAISES!

LOVELL
Jodrell Bank has nothing to sing about.

RUSSIAN (V.O.)
LOUDER, YODEL BAND! HEAR NOTHING HERE!

LOVELL
THERE'S LITTLE TO PRAISE IN JODRELL BANK!

RUSSIAN (V.O.)
FOR HAVING BIGGEST EAR OF WORLD
YOU VERY MODESTLY, COMRADE BERNARD!

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
GLUSHKO.

LOVELL

GLUSHKO (V.O.)

Static noise.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
Hullo?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
IF MOSCOW FIND OUT SLIGHTEST SLIP
YOU KNOW WHAT HAPPEN? YOU KNOW?

Fearing the worst, LOVELL and his men shake their head. There emanates ominous humming from the speakerphone:

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
Ah-ah… Ahum…

The English are horrified by the dreadful tune that a dozen RUSSIANS drone rhythmically.

LOVELL
NO-NO! NOT THAT!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
Ah-ah… Ahum…

LOVELL
That's totally unnecessary!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
Ah-ah… Ahum…

LOVELL
Let's be reasonable!

[SONG: THE LUNATICS - FUN BOY THREE]

RUSSIANS (V.O.)

We see a clinic full of cynics
Who want to twist the peoples' wrist.

LOVELL
What are you humming about, now?

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
They're watching every move we make.

7 CONTINUED: (5) 7

LOVELL
WHAT?! Who-- Who's watching?!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
We're all included on their list.

LOVELL
LIST!? No one mentioned any lists!
You can't come singing about lists now!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
Ah-ah… Ahum…

LOVELL
What sort of list! Who goes on that list!

The RUSSIANS stop singing.

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
Trotsky, par example.

LOVELL
Leon Trotsky? THE Leon Trotsky?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
Him. He lost brain in Mexico…

LOVELL
MEXICO!!! BUT-- MEXICO? WHY ON EARTH?!

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
He say no place more simpatico to Russia than Mexico.

LOVELL
SO? Why DID he loose his mind THERE?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
He was on list…

LOVELL
WHAT? What are you insinuating?

The RUSSIANS carry on with their creepy singing.

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
The lunatics have taken over the asylum.

LOVELL
It gets creepy when you people start with your humming!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
'Go nuclear' the cowboys told us
And who are we to disagree.

7 CONTINUED: (6) 7

LOVELL
DON'T! IT'D BE CRAZY TO DO SO
BUT EVEN MORE SO TO NOT DO SO!

RUSSIANS (V.O.)
Cause when the madman flips the switch,
the nuclear will go for both.

LOVELL
Let's not make a BIG SPECTACLE out of the whole… incident, shall we?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
WHICH HOLE INCIDENTALLY?

LOVELL
Listen here. No one here wants their reputation tarnished, you hear?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
Hear neither. Not here.

LOVELL
So let's just… brush THE WHOLE MATTER
under the-- Shove it behind the curtain--

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
Hole matter shovel under IRON CURTAIN?!
Wait.
(in a muffled voice)
Он хочет засунуть какое-то какать под железный занавес.

Loud protests of disgust blare through the speaker.

LOVELL
WHA-- WHAT'S THE MATTER?!

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
GOOD QUESTION! Which 'hole matter'?
Проблемы с кишечником? Or what?

LOVELL and the TECHNICIANS exchange anxious looks.

LOVELL
Alright. We're all in this together after all, aren't we.

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
DA. YOU SINK? WE SINK!

LOVELL
PLEASE DON'T! We're talking - we're talking. No singing, please. There's no need to make a big production out of it!

Static noise.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
The thing is that you presumably exceeded orbital velocity, spun out of orbit and went-- Your… gem, I'm afraid, has gone…

Dead silence.

LOVELL (CONT'D)
Are you there?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
WHERE?

LOVELL
Well, THERE, where you are.

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
NOT HERE. NOTHING HERE.

LOVELL
I said YOU SHOT PAST THE MOON! OVER THE MOON! BEYOND THE MOON, YOU HEAR?

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
Wait.
ВЫГЛЯДИТ, КАК МЫ ПОШЛИ НА ЛУНУ

Uproarious shouting erupts from the speaker.

LOVELL
(mortified)
WE'RE SO-- SO SORRY, GLUSHKO.

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
YOU MUST TO NOT BE SO-SO-SORRY, BERNARD! IS RETURNING BACK!

LOVELL and his men petrify, unsure of what they just heard.

LOVELL
WHAT IS? LUNIK?! BACK FROM WHERE?!
(to his men, privately)
Back to haunt us, probably…!

Suddenly alerted by FLASHING LIGHTS AND BEEPING ALARMS the TECHNICIANS grab their headsets.

LOVELL sees that the sky begins to clear, gradually illuminating the dish, like a sundial in fast-forward.

[EPIC RUSSIAN CHOIR: RUSSIAN PEOPLE ARISE

Awed, the men arise, facing the panoramic window:

POV: THE CYCLOPEAN PARABOLIC ANTENNA JUST OUTSIDE

8 OUTER SPACE 8

Emerging from behind a gigantic Moon, emitting its chirp, LUNIK appears tiny, silhouetted by a gargantuan blazing Sun.

9 INT. JODRELL BANK - MORNING 9

The glow of dawn floods the control room.
Elated, LOVELL shouts into the speakerphone:

LOVELL
YOU ARE A FREAKING GENIUS, GLUSHKO!

He uncorks the champagne bottle.
The men gather the overflowing foam with their glasses.

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
NOT ME, BERNARD. FREAK OF NATURE IS

LOVELL

GLUSHKO (V.O.)
MASTERMIND OF ROSCOSMOS! BRAIN OF LAIKA, SPUTNIK AND-- HERE: HEAR HIM PERSONALLY!

WOW! What are you transmitting, anyway?

MASTERMIND (V.O.)
AH! YOU WILL SEE ONCE YOU DECODE SIGNAL.

Indeed a marvel to ponder, this beautifully crafted model of Lunik adorns LOVELL's revery of…

TRANSITION

8 OUTER SPACE - FLASHBACK 8

THE SCALE MODEL MORPHS INTO THE FAST-SPINNING REAL THING.

By means of a series of tiny staccato gas jets, firing fast from all directions, LUNIK stops its axial spin, and realigns itself, pointing its black eyes to the fast approaching giant crescent.

LOVELL (V.O.)
Lunik swung behind the Moon onto its illuminated hemisphere, where it initiated a photographic sequence above its hitherto unseen side…

LUNIK SEEMS 'MESMERISED' BY THE BREATHTAKING SCAPES OF THE LUNAR BRIGHT SIDE REFLECTED ON ITS WIDE SPHERICAL EYES.

LOVELL (V.O.)
40 radiation-resistant 35 mm isochromatic exposures were then developed, fixed, dried and scanned on board for transmission to Earth.

The camera shutters inside its orbs make LUNIK appear to be blinking in disbelief.

Baffled, LOVELL ogles her and then the toy-Lunik in his hand.

PRETTY AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT
About how many light-years behind the reds would you say we are, Dr. Lovell?
